History of Pineland Sabine County, Texas

Pineland was founded around 1903 as a sawmill town, and from that time until the present, lumbering and allied timber products have been its principal industry. It is located on the Atchetson, Topeka & Santa Fe Railroad about twelve miles southwest of Hemphill, and it is the second largest town in Sabine County.

Pineland has been the home of the Pineland Operations of Temple Eastex, Inc. (formerly Temple Lumber Company) since around 1910.

The first United States Post Office was established in the city on November 26, 1904, with John D. Copper as the first postmaster. Pineland is also the home of the West Sabine Independent School District schools, the successor of the Pineland Independent School District which was established September 10, 1917.

There is in Pineland a modern public library (Arthur Temple Sr. Memorial Library), and an excellent city park (Katherine Sage Temple Memorial Park), with sports facilities to include a swimming pool and picnic area.

On December 30, 1941, the commissioners court received a petition signed by 58 Pineland residents requesting that an election be held for the purpose of incorporation of the town. (A plat and description of the town limits is contained in pages 558 to 564 of Volume N, Minutes of the Commissioners Court Meetings, on file in the county clerk's office.) The petition was granted and an election was held on January 11, 1941. Fifty voted for incorporation with none voting against. Then an election was held to select the first city governing body. They were:

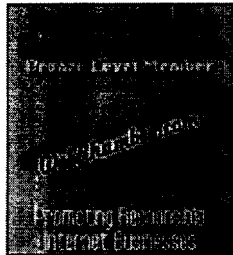

- E. G. Prud'homme : mayor
- G. W. Alford : city marshal
- H. H. Newton : alderman
- R. S. Rasbury : alderman
- J. C. Sheffield : alderman
- Lewis Bell : alderman
- Pratt Hines : alderman

The town continues today to operate under a mayor-city council form of government. The city also operates the Pineland Municipal Airport located about one mile southwest on US Highway 96.

PINELAND, TEXAS. Pineland is on U.S. Highway 96 and the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway, ten miles southwest of Hemphill in southwestern Sabine County. It originated in a sawmill and lumber camp on the Gulf, Beaumont and Great Northern Railway, which was constructed through the county in 1902. The community was known originally as John Adam's Mill but was called Pineland by 1904, when it received a post office. In 1906 the Garrison Norton Lumber Company took over the timber operation and constructed a mill by 1907. In 1910 the company had decided to move the operation to another location, when Thomas L. L. Temple,^{qv} a part owner of the mill, purchased the operation and formed the Temple Lumber Company. The town was at first composed almost exclusively of mill hands and their families. Temple constructed a large commissary building in the community and issued tokens which could be used in trade at the commissary, or, at intervals, redeemed in currency. During the first decade following Temple's purchase of the lumber operation, Pineland grew rapidly. In 1914 the population was an estimated 250, and by 1925 it had increased to an estimated 1,500. Residents of Pineland voted to incorporate in 1941. Although the lumber company remained the basis for the community's economy, by the 1960s the town also had other establishments, including a hospital, a library, a bank, and a supermarket. In 1987 Pineland had a population of 1,100, and the lumber company remained the principal industry. In 1990 the population was 882.

Our History...

It all began here, along the Sabine River, a wide, fast-moving stream that has flowed south to the Gulf of Mexico longer than man can remember. Spanish explorers came here in the 1700's, awarding land grants as early as 1794.

In 1835, shortly before Texas won its independence from Mexico, the county became a port of entry for new settlers arriving from the United States. Gaines' Ferry shuttled horses, wagons and settlers across the river at Pendleton. Today, at the same site, a modern three-mile bridge stretches across Toledo Bend Reservoir.

History seems to seep from every crack and crevice in Sabine County. The courthouse square at Hemphill, one of the most unusual in East Texas, is surrounded by quaint buildings, antique stores and gift shops. The courthouse, completed around 1910, is one of East Texas' best known landmarks and its old county jail, built in 1903, is now a museum and library. On the corner of the square, domino players regularly gather beneath an ancient cedar tree.

Sabine County residents have a deep reverence for their landmarks. Among them are the historic McMahon's Chapel, the oldest Protestant church still in existence, and the Gaines-Oliphant House, recognized by Texas as the oldest standing log cabin in the state.

Long before Hemphill became the county seat in 1858, Milam was the center of Sabine County. Once called Red Mound, it was the first community to greet Texas immigrants. Among them Stephen F. Austin, the father of Texas, and Sam Houston. Milam is also known for Milam Settlers Day, an event held each autumn.

At Pineland, Sabine County's lumbering history is reflected in an old logging locomotive, a railroad depot, and unique collection of sawmill homes. The town's history is celebrated during odd-numbered years with the observance of Pineland Day. ←

Two other Sabine County towns, Brookeland and Bronson, also have ties to the railroad and lumbering. Brookeland can also boast as being the only town in Sabine County on Lake Sam Rayburn, a hot spot for bass fishermen.

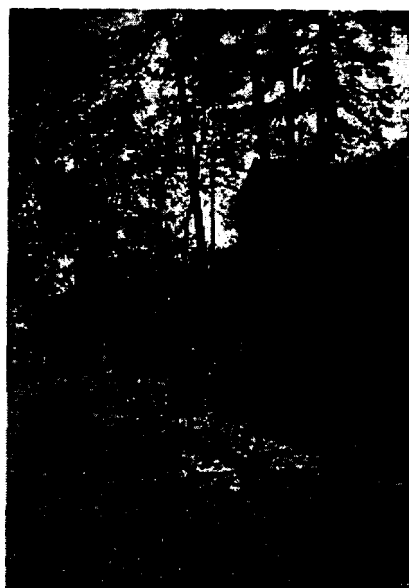

At Sabinetown, steamboats once unloaded their cargoes on the Sabine River. During the Civil War, when Union troops were known to be advancing toward Texas, Confederates built an earthen breastworks near the river. Fortunately, they were never needed.

This is just a bit of the history that fills Sabine County. Ya'll come visit and we believe you'll feel just as we do, that it really is.....The Best Of All Places!"

Foundations For Learning, Inc.

A Private Academic Junior High and High School

As our name implies, our school has as its primary goal providing students with the skills necessary to make learning a lifetime experience. The staff is dedicated to education of the whole person and to academic excellence. Our courses are designed to prepare students for college in both academic and personal areas.

It is our belief that the education of children begins with the parents, and that the parents should remain an integral part of the students' education throughout their school years. Therefore, we have a required amount of parent involvement in classroom, field, and social activities, and always welcome additional visits or participation.

Our school year is set up on a tri-semester schedule, with three subjects per semester for a total of nine subjects per school year. These classes are designed as college preparatory classes; however, it is not essential that a student be working at this level at the time of admission. Our emphasis on individual achievement will allow students to rapidly reach academic goals.

We have scheduled one field trip and one party per month. Our field trips include: The Museum of Natural Science, The Johnson Space Center, The State Capital, The San Jacinto Monument, a ballet, an opera, a musical and an overnight trip to Moody Gardens. Parties include: bowling party, putt-putt party, arcade party, costume dance, dinner party, Christmas party, movie party, and a lake party.

Students will attend classes three weeks a month with one week a month off beginning in July. There will be two weeks off during the Christmas/New Year season and four weeks off from mid-June through mid-July for a total of sixteen weeks off during the year. School hours are from 8:30 a.m. until 1:00 p.m. (9:00 a.m. until 1:30 p.m. winter months) Monday through Friday.

Our school is not a replacement for parenting. Our desire is to work with parents toward the goal of educating students to become well-educated, well-adjusted, and productive adults with a strong value system that includes honesty, integrity, and human kindness.
